COMMUNITY CHURCH NEWS
Belle Glade
Rev. J. O. Jameson, Pastor
On Sunday morning, Nov. 1st, we will begin a revival meeting and continue two weeks. Two services on Sundays, and each week night except Saturday. Evening services will begin at 8:00. Rev. J. H. Lewis of Wilmore, Ky., will be with us to assist in these services. Everybody is urged to attend as Rev. Lewis is a strong Bible preacher, and has a vital message for people in these trying times. Take time to attend these meetings, they are for everybody, for in the midst of all the rush and worry of our business and commercial life too few of us take time to cultivate the religious part of life.

The Young Business Men's Bible class is under way again under the leadership of Mr. Bratley. It is encouraging to see the attendance increasing each Sunday. Here is a fine group of young men. There is room for more—Bible study is interesting for there is a great wealth of living wisdom in the Bible.

The Primary department is coming to the front since Mrs. Tidwell has become supervisor of this group. The teachers are: Doris Reed, Margaret Risk, and Mildred Lane. These teachers have a personal touch in dealing with the little folk in and let them enjoy the benefit of this fine work. We are here to serve—we can serve you better if you come with the children.

Mr. Pepper, with a smile playing about the corner of his lips, announced that he would cast his vote in Hillsborough county and hinted that he might possibly choose a ballot box in the neighborhood of Ybor City.

The State Board of Public Instruction has ruled that the granting of a holiday to the schools rests with county school authorities. The majority of these, it is known, will keep the kiddies at home so that their fathers may exercise the right of suffrage.

The campaign now bearing an end has been distinguished by the zeal with which it has been conducted. The state is organized right down to the precincts and on election day the poll lists will be checked in order to discover absentees and bring them to the booths.

 The volume of business in 1936 may well exceed that of any year since 1929, judging from the record of the first seven months, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in a mid-Summer review of business conditions. Orders received by the General Electric company in the second quarter of 1936 totaled $77,885,718 compared with $55,163,014 in the same part of 1935, a gain of 40%.

National income produced in 1935 amounted to $52,595,000,000, as compared with $39,545,000,000 in 1932. The Division of Economic Research of the Department of Commerce estimates that the national income this year is now running close to $60,000,000,000.

In the first six months of this year the value of domestic merchandise exported was 19% more than for the first half of 1935 and 75% over the value in the first half of 1933.
